Important 2017 tax information for investors in the TIAA-CREF Funds

Dear Investor:

You have received this letter because it may contain specific information about one or more of the TIAA-CREF Funds you owned during 2017. Your consolidated Form 1099 includes only those forms relevant to your specific tax reporting situation. The Form 1099-DIV provides you with important information about distributions you received during 2017. The Form 1099-B reflects proceeds from any fund share redemptions and exchanges in 2017 and the cost basis, gain/loss and holding period associated with the transactions. Please note that the gain/loss will only be reported to the IRS for covered shares (those shares purchased and sold subsequent to January 1, 2012).

If you received a Form 1099-DIV, Box 1b shows the portion of the amount in Box 1a that is “qualified dividends,” which are dividends earned from most domestic corporations and from qualified foreign corporations. These dividends may be eligible for lower long-term capital gains tax rates. Among other requirements, you must hold your shares in the distributing mutual fund for at least 61 days during the 121-day period that began 60 days before the ex-dividend date in order to be eligible for the reduced rates on qualified dividends.

Please note: If you are a shareholder of the Real Estate Securities Fund, we have requested an extension for the filing of Form 1099-DIV. If applicable, this will be sent to you by the end of February. If you had a share redemption or exchange into another fund in 2017, your Form 1099-B is enclosed.

For further information, please see the Form 1040/1040A instructions or consult your professional tax advisor.

Please keep in mind that we are providing this tax information as a service and it should not be considered tax advice. For your specific situation, we recommend you consult a professional tax advisor. This letter is for your information only and has not been furnished to the Internal Revenue Service. Please retain this document for preparation of your tax return.

In accordance with a new voluntary IRS program, we are only including the last four digits of your Social Security number on your tax form to help protect your personal information.

If you have any questions, please contact our Planning and Service Center at 800-223-1200. Representatives are available to assist you weekdays, 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. (ET).

Sincerely,

TIAA-CREF Funds

Income derived from U.S. government obligations

The portion of dividends paid by your fund that is derived from direct U.S. government obligations and certain U.S. government agencies is generally exempt from state and local income taxes. The percentage of 2017 dividends paid by your fund attributable to U.S. government obligations is listed in the chart below.

Check with your local tax office or with your tax advisor to determine whether your state allows you to exclude some or all of the income you earn from mutual funds that invest in U.S. government obligations. If your state allows exclusion, and you have received a Form 1099-DIV, you can determine the amount of excludable income by following these steps:

- Locate the amount of short-term capital gain distributions you received, if any, as shown on your year-end statement.
- Subtract this amount from the ordinary dividends (shown, by fund, in Box 1a on Form 1099-DIV).
- Multiply this amount by the percentage from Column 2 “Percentage of dividends from U.S. government obligations” for the corresponding fund.

In addition, certain states and municipalities require residents to pay intangible or personal property tax. If you are required to pay either of these taxes, refer to Column 3, “Percentage of Fund held in U.S. government obligations as of December 31, 2017,” for the percentage that may be excluded from these taxes for each fund you are invested in.
