10 Money Market Funds are not insured or guaranteed by the FDIC or any other government agency. Although the funds seek to preserve the value of your investment at $1 per share, it is possible to lose money by investing in the fund.

Investment, insurance and annuity products are not FDIC insured, are not bank guaranteed, are not deposits, are not insured by any federal government agency, are not a condition to any banking service or activity, and may lose value.

Beginning July 7, 2011, part or all of the investment management fees of the TIAA-CREF Life Money Market Fund may be voluntarily waived. Without this waiver, current and effective annualized yields and total returns would be lower. This fee waiver may be discontinued at any time without notice.

You should consider the investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses carefully before investing. Please call 877-518-9161 or go to TIAA.org/prospectuses for current product and fund prospectuses that contain this and other information. Please read the prospectuses carefully before investing.

TIAA Life products may be subject to market and other risk factors. See the applicable product literature, or visit www.tiaa.org for details.

This Report is valid for TIAA Life's Intelligent Variable Annuity contract. The tables on the first page show actual investment performance of the subaccounts of the TIAA Life Variable Annuity Separate Account after deductions for investment management fees, direct operating expenses of the subaccounts, and mortality and expense risk charges for the indicated periods. The resulting values applicable under a specific contract depend not only on the investment performance of the subaccounts, but also on administrative costs, mortality and expense risk charges, and GMDB costs. See the prospectus for details. An individual's contract-level charges may be different than those reflected in the tables shown on the first page.

As with all variable annuities, your accumulation value can increase or decrease, depending on how the underlying investment subaccounts perform over time. TIAA Life doesn't guarantee the investment performance of the investment subaccounts, and you bear the entire investment risk including loss of principal.

Under the Intelligent Variable Annuity contract, you may allocate your deposits and accumulation value among the investment subaccounts of TIAA Life's Separate Account VA-1.

TIAA Life's Intelligent Variable Annuity contract owners may invest in one or more subaccounts and the assets are then invested in a corresponding underlying portfolio. Each of the portfolios has a different investment objective which will affect its return and its risk.

Many of the underlying investment options were active before February 5, 2008, the effective date of the Intelligent Variable Annuity contract. When applicable, performance includes historical performance for periods before the investment option was available in the product, applying contract charges assessed at the separate account level to approximate the performance the investment option would have achieved inside the Separate Account.

 You could lose money by investing in the TIAA-CREF Life Money Market Fund. Although the Fund seeks to preserve the value of your investment at $1.00 per share, it cannot guarantee it will do so. An investment in the Fund is not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other government agency. The Fund's sponsor has no legal obligation to provide support to the Fund, and you should not expect that the sponsor will provide financial support to the Fund at any time.

 As a result of recent regulatory changes, the TIAA-CREF Money Market Fund will convert to a "government money market fund" on or before October 14, 2016. Investment options and allocation percentages may change over time and may be different from previous models. Performance returns depicted are calculated based on the current models revised as of 1/12/16. Performance does not reflect previous model allocations.

Investment products are subject to market and other risk factors, including the possible loss of principal. Although asset allocation is intended to mitigate investment risk, implementation does not guarantee a profit or protect against a loss.

We encourage you to read the important standardized performance information that accompanies this material.

A current copy of the TIAA-CREF Life Insurance Company (TIAA Life) Intelligent Variable Annuity prospectus and the underlying funds prospectuses must accompany or precede this material.

Beginning July 7, 2011, part or all of the investment management fees of the TIAA-CREF Life Money Market Fund may be voluntarily waived. Without this waiver, current and effective annualized yields and total returns would be lower. This fee waiver may be discontinued at any time without notice.

This Report is valid for TIAA Life's Intelligent Variable Annuity contract. The table shows hypothetical investment performance of the models that include the subaccounts of the TIAA Life Variable Annuity Separate Account after deductions for investment management fees, direct operating expenses of the subaccounts, and mortality and expense risk charges for the indicated periods. The resulting values applicable under a specific contract depend not only on the investment performance of the subaccounts, but also on administrative costs, mortality and expense risk charges, and GMD costs. See the prospectus for details. An individual's contract-level charges may be different than those reflected in the tables shown on the first page.

As with all variable annuities, your accumulation value can increase or decrease, depending on how the underlying investment subaccounts perform over time. TIAA Life doesn't guarantee the investment performance of the investment subaccounts, and you bear the entire investment risk including loss of principal.

Under the Intelligent Variable Annuity contract, you may allocate your deposits and accumulation value among the investment subaccounts of TIAA Life's Separate Account VA-1.

Each of the portfolios has a different investment objective which will affect its return and its risk. Many of the underlying investment options were active before February 5, 2008, the effective date of the Intelligent Variable Annuity contract. Where applicable, performance includes historical performance for periods before the investment option was available in the product, applying contract charges assessed at the separate account level to approximate the performance the investment option would have achieved inside the Separate Account.

Investment, insurance and annuity products are not FDIC insured, are not bank guaranteed, are not deposits, are not insured by any federal government agency, are not a condition to any banking service or activity, and may lose value.
